She noted the distribution of revenue across the counties. Manager Raby asked why there is a significant decrease for Hennepin County when the other counties increased. He asked if it was attributed to the boundary changes between the LMRWD and RPBCWD. Administrator Loomis said the boundary change was to be a wash. Manager Raby asked if that was not the reason why Hennepin had two Managers. Administrator Loomis said that was her understanding. Managers suggested that Hennepin County should cede a seat to Scott or that Carver be asked to cede its seat to allow Scott County a second seat. Administrator Loomis said that is a question for legal counsel.

Manager Raby asked when they are going to make a decision to be a member of MAWD. Administrator Loomis said the Board should have that discussion when the District is next invoiced, which will be in January or February. Manager Raby said the Board needs to have a discussion before they continue being a member for next year. Manager Hartmann asked how many watershed districts in MN are not a member of MAWD and if any District have left? Administrator Loomis said she doesn't think there are any watershed districts that are not members. She does not know if any have left MAWD. She said there is talk from some districts about leaving. Manager Raby asked if someone from the MAWD Board would come and address the LMRWD Board about remaining in the organization, preferably in November or December.

Administrator Loomis commented on the USGS. She said she spoke at the Upper Mississippi Waterway Association about the cost of maintaining the stream flow gauge and the Board's concern over the equity. Manager Raby asked if the information was removed from the web site, as he thought they had agreed to do that. Ms. Young said she didn't think that USGS was under that impression and that the commitment was to work with the District to find others to share in the cost.

Administrator Loomis said there are resolutions for each county adopting the budget and certifying the levy for each county.

Manager Hartmann opened the public hearing and asked if there was anyone who wished to address the Board. Seeing and hearing no one wishing to address the Board Manager Hartmann closed the public hearing.
